

SHAKE, RATTLE, AND ROLL

What You Need

- * letter-size envelope
- * wire coat hanger
- * rubber band
- * marker
- * wire cutters
- * large coat button

Do you have friends who are squeamish about snakes? This prank is perfect for them. But be warned, some of your pals might wet their pants. Don't stand too close!

Step 1: On the outside of the envelope, write "Rattlesnake Eggs. Handle with Care."

Step 2: Use wire cutters to snip the curved hook off of the coat hanger.

Step 3: Slip the rubber band through two holes of the button. Loop the ends of the rubber band over the ends of the U-shaped wire that you cut in step 2.

Step 4: Wind the button until the rubber band is twisted tightly. Place the button inside the envelope. Grasp the button through the envelope with your other hand to keep it wound up.

TIP: DON'T LET YOUR FRIENDS SEE INSIDE THE ENVELOPE BEFORE THE RATTLING BEGINS.

Step 5: Invite your friends to view the rattlesnake eggs you're babysitting until they hatch. When they gather around, open the envelope so they can peek inside. Then let go of the button and watch them jump. They'll think your noisy little snakes have hatched and are about to strike!

Impressiveness: ★★ ★

Complexity: ★★ ☆